From ho-hum to WOW

Want to make your yard more than just a place you visit with weed killer?

Adding Value adds value to homes & properties by increasing their appeal and marketability. Their skilled craftsmen and women offer a wide variety of services – including room design, installations, repairs, replacements, remodeling and maintenance.

In order to fulfill the growing demand for outdoor entertaining Adding Value has added Hardscapes to its portfolio of services. Adding Value designs and installs Paver Patios, Walkways, Driveways and Retaining Walls to create beautiful, functional, low-maintenance living areas around the home. Sloped properties can be terraced to create more usable space and flat properties can be enhanced by adding raised patios, fire pits, outdoor lighting, and seating walls.

According to “Smart Money” magazine: Consumers who invest 5-percent of the value of their home on landscaping (i.e. long-lasting outdoor living areas and quality, low maintenance landscapes.) can expect to add 15-percent or more to its value.

Last year, 48% of 600 residential architecture firms surveyed reported that upscale landscaping is on the increase, as is the popularity of outdoor living space such hardscapes and patios and small courtyards instead of the traditional large backyards, according to the American Institute of Architects' first Home Design Trends Survey.

In addition to working with Home Owners and Realty Groups on a variety of products and services, Adding Value offers Builder/Neighborhood Programs for Designer Door Hardware, Exterior Shutters, 2” Custom Blinds, 2 ½-3 ½” Plantation Shutters, Under-decking, Garage Floor Resurfacing, Interlocking Paver Patios, Retaining Walls, Walkways & Outdoor Living Areas. From New Construction to a mini-make-over, Adding Value can turn your home or building project from ordinary to extra-ordinary.

"With great values and commitment to doing the business the right way in our community we're passionate about our concept and our processes", explains Managing Partner, Jason DeMarchi. "We try to keep our eyes and ears open to emerging needs in the market to provide value through peace of mind, quality products and professional service."
